Study in one of the UK's most exciting cities

Leeds is one of the most popular student destinations in the UK. With a low cost of living, affordable accommodation and lots of things to see and do – Leeds is a great place to be a student.

A vibrant and multicultural city

Home to more than 100 nationalities, Leeds has something for everyone, from art galleries, museums, theatre and ballet, to rugby, football and cricket matches. And with over 1,000 shops in the city, you can choose how to spend to your free time.

A student city

With a total student population of more than 200,000, Leeds is a student friendly city. It is safe and compact so it's easy to get around.

The Leeds International Study Centre is in the city centre, opposite the train station, so it is easy to get to and is near all the shops, cafes, restaurants and bars.

At the heart of the UK

Leeds is a great place to explore the rest of the UK and Europe from. With York, Manchester, Liverpool and London within easy reach, you are never far away from great places to visit.

Leeds Bradford International Airport has direct flights to over 75 destinations worldwide, as well as connections through Amsterdam, Brussels and Paris. Manchester Airport is within 1.5 hours by train and has flights to over 180 destinations worldwide.

Leeds International Study Centre

The Leeds International Study Centre (ISC) provides degree preparation programmes for international students who would like to study at undergraduate level at the University of Leeds or undergraduate or Masters degree level at Leeds Metropolitan University.

The Leeds ISC International Foundation Year is a three-term programme of English language and study skills training in addition to subject specific academic modules to prepare you for undergraduate study.

The Leeds ISC Pre-Masters Business is a two-term course of study designed to give you a range of academic and learning skills, as well as English language support to help you succeed on a Masters programme at Leeds Metropolitan University.

You will study in the city centre, on Leeds Metropolitan's City Campus. You will benefit from being taught in small classes by specialists in university preparation. You will also experience tutorials, seminars and larger group lectures, so you are fully introduced to the style of teaching you will find at university.

When you apply to study at the Leeds ISC, you will need to choose the degree programme and university you wish to study at. Once you have successfully completed the programme and achieved the required grades, you will progress onto your chosen degree.

It prepares students for study at Leeds Metropolitan University and the University of Leeds. All programmes are approved by Study Group, who are responsible for the academic standards.

Study Group operates International Study Centres on the campuses of more than 15 universities throughout the UK and Europe, as well as programmes across the USA, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Each year Study Group welcomes over 60,000 students from more than 130 countries.

Located on a single campus and world famous for its teaching and research, the University of Leeds is ranked in the top 100 universities in the world with an outstanding reputation for graduate recruitment and student experience.

Campus & Facilities

Shortlisted for The Sunday Times University of the Year award in 2011, the University of Leeds is continually investing in their campus, facilities and staff to make sure their students have the very best experience. By 2015 the University will have invested £157m in new buildings and refurbishments. New buildings include the Liberty building home to the Law School, the new teaching and research Energy Building and The Edge, a state-of-the-art fitness centre and swimming pool.

When you join the University of Leeds you join a vibrant student community. At its heart is Leeds University Union (LUU), voted the number one students' union in the UK (NUS Student Awards 2009). With over 300 student societies dedicated to social, sporting, cultural, religious and international interests – from skydiving to student radio – it's a great way to develop your interests, meet like-minded people and try out something new.

Academic focus

The University is known worldwide for the quality of its teaching. Through its research power and the funding this attracts, Leeds is able to invest in world-class facilities and academic staff who are actively engaged in cutting-edge research. This means you will be taught by internationally renowned, inspirational academics working at the forefront of their fields – academics who share your passion for the subject.

Established in 1904, the University of Leeds is part of the prestigious Russell Group, consisting of the 24 leading research-based universities in the UK.

Founded in 1824, Leeds Metropolitan University is one of the UK's most popular universities and is a real favourite with international students. World-class teaching, state-of-the-art facilities, award-winning buildings and friendly staff and students, make Leeds Metropolitan University a great place to study.

Campus and Facilities

The University has two campuses, both in fantastic locations. The City Campus is in the city centre and has award-winning buildings the Rose Bowl and Broadcasting Place. Leeds International Study Centre is also located on the City Campus. The Headingley Campus is just 4.8 kilometres (3 miles) away set in beautiful parkland with historic buildings dating from 1752 and is easily accessible by bus.

Both campuses offer a range of facilities to help you get the most out of your studies. The award winning libraries are open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Specialist course facilities include a fantastic Language Resource Area, computer labs, health laboratories, design studios and more.

When you progress onto Leeds Metropolitan University there are more than 4,500 bedrooms available in nine halls of residence. They are all within easy travelling distance of the campuses and with facilities, such as en-suite bedrooms, on-site health and leisure clubs, and social areas.

Academic focus

The University's courses are developed in conjunction with world class organisations to ensure that the skills and knowledge learnt is of value to employers. There are opportunities to gain work experience and all undergraduate courses include at least two weeks work-based learning. University staff are passionate about their subject area and many are from industry.

The University's research is also graded as world leading or internationally excellent in areas such as Business and Management Studies, Communication, Cultural and Media Studies and Sports-Related Studies.
